Tradition meets Innovation

Poljo Plasterwala and Abel plast is a revolutionary, eco-friendly plastering solution developed through advanced geopolymer technology inspired by the ancient engineering marvels of civilizations like the Mayans, Egyptians, Romans and Indians, which built enduring structures without cement or steel. Some remarkable examples include Sigiriya Fort in Sri Lanka, built over 4,000 years ago, Kallanai Dam in Tamil Nadu, constructed around 2,000 years back, the historic Madurai Meenakshi Temple, also dating back two millennia, Padmanabhaswamy Temple in Kerala, with a legacy of over 1,200 years, and the iconic Taj Mahal, standing strong for 377 years all testaments to the strength and durability achieved through ancient construction methods. Because of these time tested techniques, these monuments have stood the test of time and durability all incorporates the same principles to deliver superior durability and longevity. Rediscovered by French scientist Dr. Joseph Davidovits, (in 1978), This technology is now widely used in advanced countries like Germany, Japan, UK, USA, France etc.
Geopolymer materials mimic the natural strength and longevity of volcanic rock and limestone, setting through atmospheric CO<sub>2</sub> rather than energy based processes. Unlike conventional cement sustainable Eco-friendly and cost effective, cement, river sand or M sand, making it both developed by Sathya Envirotech LLP in collaboration with Poljo Vyapar Kendra, the product is tailored for Indian conditions using locally available minerals they offering superior durability, aesthetics and a significantly reduced carbon footprint. The timeless technology that shaped ancient wonders is now here for your construction needs. Choose eco friendly Poljo Plasterwala let's build a greener, stronger future together.
